Telling the Truth Quotes by Frederick Buechner

'How do you communicate truth to a world that isn't sure what truth is—or even if truth is? How do you commend spiritual absolutes to people who insist there are none?' Questions like these inspired the 'Telling the Truth' conference at Trinity Evangelical Divinity School in May 1998 and this book is the published form of most of the papers given at that conference.

Telling the Truth - Home

As the rest of Scripture makes clear, truth-telling is a moral duty and honesty is a moral virtue. The pursuit of justice depends crucially on truthfulness, and thus the righteous are those who "love truth" (Zech. 8:16-19; cf. Amos 5:10). A sincere concern for truth should permeate not only our speech but our very thoughts (Phil. 4:8).

"This is one of the best and most useful books on evangelism for ordinary Christians. Will Metzger has drawn upon a lifetime of personal ministry to write a biblically based, theologically sound, practically relevant book on how to share the gospel. Tell the Truth will help you--yes, even you!--learn how to develop an evangelistic way of life. Instead of relying on manipulative, man-centered methods of evangelism, Metzger explains how to introduce people to Jesus Christ in a way that ...

Telling the Truth: The Gospel as... book by Frederick Buechner

In short, in John, "truth" is the truth about Jesus, who he is and why he came to earth. It's the truth represented by his decision to come to earth, take the form of a man, show us God in the flesh, and die for our sins. It's not unreasonable to say that "truth" is the gospel, that is, the good news about Jesus.
