Wedemeyer Reports

Wedemeyer shows little respect for President Roosevelt. He finds that Roosevelt was pushed around by Churchill, who as a result was able to delay the cross-Channel invasion from happening in 1943, which, had it taken place then, says Wedemeyer, would probably have shortened the war by a year.

National Affairs: Wedemeyer Report - TIME

Upon his return to the United States he submitted a comprehensive and detailed report to his superiors which ultimately was passed on to President Franklin D. Roosevelt who was very much impressed. Ultimately, Wedemeyer was put in charge of the committee that formulated plans for the invasion of France in the summer of 1943 by Allied armies.

General A. C. Wedemeyer

Wedemeyer was a staunch anti-communist. While in China during the years 1944 to 1945 he was Chiang Kai-shek 's Chief of Staff and commanded all American forces in China. Wedemeyer supported Chiang's struggle against Mao Zedong and in 1947 President Truman sent him back to China to render a report on what actions the United States should take.
